Changing Higher Education

An interesting tribute to a professor who successfully navigated an earlier era of change.

Jack Crandall, left, and Art Lee, right, c1955.

Higher education is certainly experiencing tremendous and often fundamental changes nowadays. This isn't the first era in which such changes have happened, however. Just today in the archives we ran across the attached document and thought we'd share it. It is a 1991 tribute by Professor Jack Crandall to Professor Art Lee who had passed away that year. It is a fascinating depiction of change; imagine going from being a professor in a Normal School, a one-building school with perhaps 300 students, to being the first chair of a separate history department in a comprehensive college of almost 10,000 students!

SUNY Undergraduate Research Conference – SURC WEST 2018

SURC 2018 abstract submissions are now being accepted!!

The SUNY Undergraduate Research Conference launched at The College at Brockport in 2015 and expanded in 2017 to include two regional conferences — SURC East and SURC West. This year, SURC East will be held at SUNY Oneonta on Friday, April 20, and SURC West will be at Monroe Community College on Saturday, April 21.

The Provost's Office, through the SURC Fellow Program, will fund registration for a cohort of Brockport undergraduates — those enrolled in spring 2018 semester — who have presentations accepted for SURC West 2018 at Monroe Community College.

Please help us recruit a strong cohort of Brockport undergraduates to participate in this valuable opportunity for networking, academic enrichment, and professional development by submitting abstracts to SURC 2018 and applying for the SURC Fellows program.

"On seeing a picture..."

A young Brockport poet of the 19th century.

Eugenia Peckham Hartwell attended Brockport in its early days as a private academy. She was close with two women instructors here, Clara Thurston and Mary Mortimer, both of whom were beginning long careers as pioneers in higher education for women. Eugenia was a literary person, and wrote a good deal of poetry and prose, largely unpublished in her lifetime. After her early death during childbirth in 1854, family members published a small memorial volume of her work, which is held in the special collections of the library. Attached is a file with a poem of hers, some more biographical information, and an image of the school in the 1840s.

Tunnel of Oppression

We want your department or organization to be a part of Tunnel of Oppression!

Tunnel of Oppression

The Tunnel of Oppression is an event that is held every Spring semester in the Student Union in order to increase awareness of the different types and kinds of oppression and privileges that impact our country, culture and our entire world. This year the Tunnel of Oppression will be held in the Seymour Union Ballroom on Tuesday, March 6 through Thursday, March 8. This is a great opportunity for departments and organizations on the Brockport campus to come together for a great cause. Through this experience students, faculty and staff can interact as they learn and become more familiar with oppression's that may otherwise be invisible and the privileges some may possess and take for granted.

If you would like to participate and submit a proposal, you may do so through myBrockport. The deadline for submission is February 15. The link is provided below. If you have any questions or concerns please don't hesitate to reach out.

Brockport Community Fair

Organizations, clubs, committees, churches, and agencies throughout the Village of Brockport will be tabling at the Brockport Community Fair on February 7 from 11 am to 2 pm in the Main Lounge of the Union. These local groups will be promoting their service opportunities and helping our students explore ways to be fully engaged in the Brockport community.

FREE hot cocoa and coffee provided throughout the event.

Groups tabling include: Brockport Symphony Orchestra, Kiwanis Club of Brockport (Circle K), Brockport Arts Festival-BISCO, Western Monroe Historical Society, Seymour Library, Brockport Community Museum, LIONS Club, Strong West, Oak Orchard Health, Brockport Child Development Center, Camp Abilities and much more!
